ALEXANDRIA RAID ON POOLROOM NETS ALLEGED LIQUOR

Officers Determined to Break Up Illicit Traffic.

THE HERALD BUREAU,
A. S. Bonaparte,
725 King Street

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Aug. 30.—Corn liquor dealers in Alexandria are coming under the eyes of the police department, which promises a speedy end to the source of supply for the city's thirsty.

The flow of corn liquor from the hinterland of Fairfax County has attracted official attention. Police-men this afternoon indicated what the probable course of the campaign will be when they raided a pool room on King street.

They captured a gallon and a half of Virginia's favorite beverage and also a bottle nearly full of what might pass for rye whiskey with unofficial observers.

The manner in which the corn liquor was found would shock gentlemen from the Blue Ridge sections who drink their's straight and greet revenue men with bullets.

It was right beside the tank used for soft drinks, such as sarsaparilla. A spigot was attached to it which opened on the soft drink fountain.

Corn liquor has fallen upon evil days, say policemen who raided the place, when it is sold as a soft drink.

Other raids are expected to follow soon until the entire source of supply is cleaned up.

The case brought to light will be heard in the Police Court tomorrow. The raid was conducted by Chief of Police Goode, Police Sergeant, Wilkinson, and Policemen Durrer, Mgrner, Cline, Talbot and C. A. Padgett.

Three shots fired by a man, supposed to have been one of a party of men and women from Washington, while a dance was in progress in Odd Fellows' Hall, colored, on south Columbus street late last night, caused a stampede of the crowd of men and women in the hall. There was a mad dash for places of safety and the hall was soon emptied.

The police arrived in the patrol a short time afterward and took into custody three colored men giving the names of Robert Shorter, James Shorter and Harry Johnson. James Shorter was first taken to the Alexandria Hospital for treatment, having been knocked in the head, evidently with some blunt instrument. All three denied being implicated in the disorder, but fines of $100 each were assessed against them.

The name of the Washington man alleged to have been the ringleader of the group from Washington, was obtained, and efforts will be made to apprehend him.

Word was received today of the death in Richmond yesterday of Marshall M. Gilliam. His widow was Miss Emma M. Steward of this city. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon in Richmond.

Last rites for Daniel Webster Schofield were held this afternoon at the residence, 918 Cameron street, the Rev. B. D. Jackson, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church officiating. Burial was in Bethel Cemetery. Pallbearers were James H. Fisher, James Bayne, L. E. Pitts, Charles W. King, S. W. Pitts, and Elmer Alexander.

Miss Mary Lee Lloyd, 80 years old, died late last night, at the residence of Mrs. M. Crenshaw, 1410 Massachusetts avenue northwest, Washington. She was born in Alexandria, a daughter of the late John and Ann H. Lloyd. For many years she lived at the northwest corner of Washington and Queen streets, and was one of the city's oldest residents. She moved to Washington about three years ago. The funeral will take place at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Crenshaw, the Rev. W. J. Morton, D. D., of Christ Episcopal Church officiating, and burial will be in Christ Church Cemetery.

In police court today the cases of two colored boys giving the names of Francis Lee Jackson and James Lucas, about twelve years old each, charged with breaking into the store of Allen Brothers, King and P streets, of class referred to the grand jury. Pleas of not guilty were entered by both lads.

Mrs. Jean Carter Bawly and R. Roland Burruss of this city were married in Washington last Saturday. Mrs. Burruss is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George William Carter.

Gen. John J. Pershing will deliver the address to the knights, and Gen. Milton A. Rockford will give the coronation address. Robert M. Curran will be chief marshal, and his aids will be Misses Sarah E. Keys and Bettie B. Ray.

Fly Poison Kills Tot.
MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 30.—Attracted by a dish of what he believed to be sweetened water, but which was saturated with poison from Flypaper, 15-month-old Theodore Pravel drank the deadly poison at the home of his grandfather, James Pravel, near here, and died in agony within a few hours.

Road Lighthouses To Be Placed on State Highways

The Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company, yesterday announced plans for safe-guarding motor traffic on the more important highways throughout the State of Virginia.

This plan, provided for the installation, in the near future, of what is regarded in traffic engineering circles as the most effective warning signals yet devised for railroad grade crossings, dangerous curves and steep grades, consists of flashing highway lighthouses, patterned after the lighthouses used for the control of traffic on the Panama Canal and throughout the seven seas.

Virginia will be one of the first States in the Union to afford such protection to motor car drivers, according to C. A. Dorney, division salesman, although a large number of other States are planning to make a general installation of these warning lights in the immediate future.

The "lighthouse" is made of sheet metal and iron, standing eight feet high, with a drum at the top in the center of which is the spread-light lens for the flashing signal and on the face of the signal there is a notice reading, "Danger-curve," "Danger-grade," "Danger-Railroad," as the case may be.

The session will continue through tomorrow.

MIDSHIPMAN DIES OF BOXING INJURIES

Funeral at Naval Academy
Attended by Officers and Classmen.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 30.—Funeral services over the body of Midshipman William B. Hayes, Junior, 18 years old, of Lockhaven, Conn., member of the fourth class, whose injuries, sustained in a boxing encounter on August 20, terminated fatally in the Naval Hospital here early this morning, were held in the Naval Chapel this afternoon.

The services were conducted by Capt. Sydney K. Evans, naval chaplain, assisted by Chaplain Miller. The parents of the unfortunate midshipman, who were at his bedside when he died, will accompany the body to Lockhaven tomorrow for burial. Practically all of the officers attached to the Academy and the battalions of fourth class midshipmen attended the services.

Hayes boxed in the 125-pound-class in one of the series of tournaments held at the Academy during the last few weeks. He received a number of blows on the head, it is understood, but was not knocked out, and did not complain of feeling ill until the following day, when he was sent to the hospital. Academy authorities regarded an investigation of the accident as unnecessary.

Fairfax Quakers
For Open Sessions
In Arms Parley

WINCHESTER, Va., Aug. 30.—Open sessions of the disarmament conference, to be held in Washington in November, are advocated in resolutions transmitted to President Harding by Lewis Pidgeon, clerk of the Fairfax Society of Friends, in annual session at Lincoln, Va.

The Friends "believe that should the disarmament conference fail to bring about thoroughgoing disarmament on land and sea civilization itself will be threatened," and they urge open sessions of the conference on the ground that "definite constructive action is to be much more surely arrived at through open discussion." The Virginia Quakers probably will urge the adoption of similar resolutions at the Baltimore yearly meeting in October.

Harding Invited

County's Fete

ROCKVILLE, Md., Aug. 30.—President Harding has been invited to participate in the exercises incident to the celebration of the 14th anniversary of the organization of Montgomery County, which will take place next Tuesday under the auspices of Janet Montgomery Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The President has not yet replied.

The celebration will take place on the courthouse lawn, and is expected to attract persons from all parts of the county, the District of Columbia and elsewhere.

St. Barnabas Fete.
OXON HILL, Md., Aug. 30.—The thirteenth annual tournament of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church was held here this afternoon, followed by a chicken supper and a dance in the evening.
